

EXCEPTED AGENCIES: Career opportunities also exist in those Agencies of the Federal Government which conduct their own personnel management. You should make direct inquiry to these Agencies if interested since they do not make appointments from this examination.

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY: The CIA offers career opportunities in the vital area of intelligence. In its mission to collect, digest, collate and interpret for U.S. policy makers vast amounts of information received from all over the world, CIA makes use of almost all intellectual disciplines with the most frequent being political science, history, language, foreign area studies, geography, and administration. CIA often needs people whose specialities appear to be unrelated to intelligence. Salaries follow the Civil Service scale. There are opportunities for foreign travel and for professional development in various career fields. If you are a U.S. citizen, 18 years or older, of good health and character, please write the Director of Personnel, P. O. Box 1925, Washington, D. C. 20013.

Your resume should contain name, address, age, military status, FSEE identification number and date of eligibility, schools attended, grade averages, major subjects, degrees conferred. Indicate if you would accept employment in Washington, D. C. or overseas. If you have secretarial skills and are interested in overseas employment, indicate words per minute for typing and shorthand. Because of the nature of its responsibilities, the Central Intelligence Agency must make a very thorough investigation of the character and qualifications of each applicant who is tentatively selected for employment. You are therefore urged to inquire well ahead of the date you would like to enter on duty with the Agency.
